

Manfred Becker's
Fatherland (2006)

Monday, February 9, 2009

Screening: 5:00-6:30 p.m.
Discussion: 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Munk Centre for International Studies
1 Devonshire Place
Room 208, North Building

"A profoundly intimate portrait." Lynne Fernie, HotDocs

Fatherland documents a filmmaker's personal quest to understand his positioning as German-Canadian. Discussions with his German father and with his young son in Canada reveal three generations caught on the wrong side of history. Manfred Becker is an independent filmmaker and editor, and teaches production in the Film & Video Program at York University.

Advance registration requested at:
<http://webapp.mcis.utoronto.ca/Events.aspx>

Public Screening sponsored by
Joint Initiative in German & European Studies
Department of Germanic Languages & Literatures
University of Toronto